Last revision: March 26, 2020

OVERVIEW

This contract describes the terms and conditions of the usage of Calamari and all of its services. A "Product" refers to any distributable, marketed asset, authored by Calamari. The "License" is your accorded access to Product(s), bound by these terms, and a Serial. The "Serial" is a one-time-use code that grants access to the creation of an Account. The "Account" is a way to maintain your access to Product(s), accessible through a username and a password. Serials may be obtained officially from Calamari, or through third party resellers. All third party re-sellers are not affiliated with Calamari. All sales of Serials are non-centralized and are not regulated by Calamari. In the following contents, "you" refers to any person who has consented to these terms or has become contractually bound to them. "We" and "us" refer to Calamari. In the result of a breach of the terms in this agreement, the nonconformist will face denial of the means to use the Product, via termination of the client's License, and will be prosecuted up to the full extent of these terms.

By obtaining a license, you agree to follow all of these terms, without the possibility of removing yourself from this agreement, unless granted by an official Calamari representative.
